

HEENAN

THE

CHAMPION OF THE WORLD.

Who was it crossed the raging ocean,
Thrashed Tom Sayers against his notion,
Has gained by it the world's devotion?
HEENAN.

Who was it laughed at Old Lord Pam,
Told Sayers that he was sent by Sam,
And he would show him that his man
Was HEENAN.

Who was it so nobly won the belt,
And Tom Sayers severly welt?
Thirty Seven rounds won the Championship
For HEENAN.

Who made them think the Yankees men,
That they will never try again
To send a challenge o'er the main?
JOHN C. HEENAN.

What man was it that stopped the airs,
And took the Champion Belt from Sayers,
And made his backers say their prayers?
JOHN C. HEENAN.

H. DE MARSAN, Publisher.
Songs, ballads, toy-books,
60 Chatham str. New-York.

